O'RURACK WAS DRUNK

He Amused Himself Abusing His Wife and Family.

ONLY AN INCIDENT OF SUNNYSIDE

The Poor Woman Entered a Complaint and O'Rurack Was Locked Up—The Patrol Made a Run In the Interest of Humanity.

Another case of where a husband found enjoyment in abusing his family came to the ears of the police last night, and the central figure of the cruel incident was promptly locked up.

Officer Whan was called to the house of Patrick O'Rurack on May street, and found the man. His wife hunted up the officer and told him that her husband had come home very drunk, but not so stupefied with liquor but what he could whip the children and make life miserable for her. The poor woman was in tears and seemed to be having a hard time of it. Patrick was sober enough to walk to town, and the officer locked him up for the night.

Late yesterday afternoon Patrolman McMillen chanced to walk from the station into Broadway, and looking toward the Calcutta road saw a woman staggering around and seeming to be just capable of walking and nothing more. Thinking that something was wrong, he hitched up the team and was soon on the spot, where he found the woman was Mrs. Darragh, of Monroe street. She was not drunk, but suffering from some injury, and the patrolman decided to drive her at once to her home, but the crowd that had gathered could not see as far into the matter as the officer and shouted for him to take her to jail. He paid no heed to the utterance and soon had Mrs. Darragh at her home, where a physician was summoned. He quickly found the lady had broken her ankle and he reduced the fracture. She was walking on the street when she stepped on some object and her ankle turned suddenly, causing the fracture. The intense pain dazed her for a few minutes, and she went staggering along as when the officer saw her. She is better today.

A SAD STORY.

Mrs. Smull Told it In Court This Morning.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Dec. 20.—Twenty witnesses are here today from East Liverpool to testify in the case of Mrs. Mary Smull against her husband, John Smull, from whom she seeks a divorce. Mrs. Smull was the first witness called and said:

"I have lived in East Liverpool for 26 years, and was first married to William Jackson. He died in 1875 leaving me a piece of property on Market street and a child six-months-old. On June 1, 1876, I was married to John Smull. He drank a great deal, and the first year of our married life he was arrested and taken to Wellsville on a charge of burglary. He denied the crime to me, declared he was innocent, but the next day he turned states evidence and confessed everything. He was taken to Cleveland where he was found guilty and sentenced to six years and six months in the penitentiary. During his imprisonment I supported myself and child by my own exertions, and the next year I borrowed $100 from Mr. Baggott giving a mortgage on my property as security. This amount I repaid by allowing my wages at the pottery to stand. Smull always wanted me to sign over to him my property, and he annoyed me to such an extent that I agreed to compromise with him. Providing he would work and support me and give my daughter an education he should have something at my death. From this on he neglected and abused me, growing worse until three years ago he came home and cruelly beat me. He was very drunk, and after abusing me he went away and I did not see him for three days. Then I went to the pottery in search of him, and found him. He became very angry, and throwing me to the ground planted his foot on my breast. After this I refused to live with him longer, but in a few days he came to my room when no one was about and choked me. The last crime I know of him committing was with a negro woman, when I followed him and told the woman's husband, who had the place raided."

NO INCREASE.

That is What a Trade Journal Thinks of the Tariff Situation.

That efforts will be made during the present session of congress to secure the amendment to the Wilson tariff in the interest of protection to home industries seems certain; but that any such attempts will be successful is by no means so certain. Speaker Reed of the house is understood to view with disfavor any general tariff legislation at this session. Even if a bill of this kind could be passed by both house and senate, the president can be relied upon to veto it, and that would end the matter, as a two-thirds vote could not possibly be mustered in the senate to pass the law over the president's veto. The potting industry can therefore make up its mind to bear for a time longer the ills it has to endure under the Senator Smith schedule. The New Jersey statesman may be willing, even anxious, to undue his hasty, ill-considered work, but he is not strong enough for the task.—China, Glass and Lamps.

THE ENTERTAINMENT.

What the Junior Class Will Have for Their Friends.

Following is the program for the junior class of the high school entertainment this evening:

Homage to Verdi.....
First piano, Misses Pearl Swan and Martha Porter; second piano, Misses Mary Campbell and Minerva Agner.
Recitation—The Serenade....Geo. Whittaker
Jean, a story of the Crusade.....Mary Moore
Quartet—A catastrophe.....
James Nagle, Claude Faulk, Roy Colclough, Thomas McClure.
A Bit of History.....Miss Sara Swaney
Recitation.....Miss Ella Huston
Violin duet.....
William Knowles, Miss Clara Plunkett, piano, Miss Mary Campbell.
Class history.....Daniel Webster
Class song.....Class
Selection from Nicholas Nickleby.....
Miss Edith McCord.
The Yule tide.....Miss Carrie Metz
Christmas Athem.....Junior Class

The program is excellent, and will doubtless attract many persons this evening. A great effort has been put forward by the young people and they cannot but be successful.

FREE SILVER CLUBS.

Some of the Faithful Propose to Organize Them.

A Lisbon paper of this week contained an editorial advocating the organization of free silver clubs on the plan proposed by W. H. Harvey, the man who posed as "Coin," and in speaking of the matter a local Democrat said:

"If the gold standard Democrats in this county ever capture the party again they'll have to hustle. We propose, as the Patriot says, to have a club in every township, and when the time comes to test strength will see which side has the most force. It may split the party, but I don't think so. I believe it will give them a good thrashing, and then they will come around like little men."

THE WAR SPIRIT.

It Would Not Take Long to Raise a Regiment In the County.

"If it ever comes to a matter of fighting, Columbiana county will take care of its good name," said a well known farmer of this part of the county today. "I have heard more of old battles and fighting these past few days than ever before, and I don't think the president would have to call for volunteers more than once to get a regiment out of the county. I don't know how it is in the towns, but I can vouch for the country districts. President Cleveland is not well beloved because of his tariff ideas, but the people turn to his policy on the Monroe doctrine because they know it is good American principle."

A JUDGE.

Doctor Lee Called to Beaver on an Important Mission.

Doctor Lee has so far recovered from the effects of his recent accident as to be able to be out, and had many funny experiences because his friends did not recognize him. He spent last evening in Beaver, where he was called to act as one of the judges in an oratorical contest. The contestants were allowed to choose two judges and the faculty the other, the latter selecting Doctor Lee. The gentleman was accompanied by Rev. R. M. Donaldson, financial secretary of Wooster university, who is today being entertained at the home of the doctor.

HE DARED HIM,

So the Other Man Went Back and They Fought.

At a late hour last night two men stood talking at Fourth and Market streets. They were not in the best of humor, and after quarreling for a time one walked away. He had gone only a short distance when the one who remained in a loud voice dared him to come back and strike him. The other hesitated for a moment and then came back, squared himself for battle and then struck the other a hard blow in the face. Both fought hard for a few minutes and the battle ended, each one apparently content with the conclusion reached.

HE HAD A REVOLVER

And He Knew How to Pull the Trigger,

BUT THE AIM WAS POOR

And Two Men Who Were in the House Got Away Without a Scratch, Although Badly Frightened—A Happening That Might Have Ended in a Tragedy.

A few people who chanced to be on West Market street a few minutes before last midnight were treated to a scene that was not down on the bills, and was enacted from beginning to end with an earnestness which almost ended in a tragedy.

The attention of the spectators was attracted to the second story of a house, where it seemed that a general row was in progress. Loud words came from the room, and the next minute the door leading to a stairway which goes up from the outside was thrown violently open. Two men squeezed through the space, and started for the street at a rapid pace. One seemed to fly through the air as he moved forward, and the other was close behind him. They had not gone many steps before another man appeared in the door with a revolver in his hand. Hastily leveling the weapon he fired, but by this time the men were well out of the way, and the bullet did not take effect. Then there was more confusion. One man ran toward the Horn switch and the other through the Diamond. They evidently expected another shot but none came, for the husband returned to the room above. A witness to the scene was the wife of the man who did the shooting and she seemed greatly aggitated. The story was told freely about the streets today, and in connection with it are a sufficient number of assertions to make a divorce suit of the first water should the matter go to court.

SCHOOLS CLOSED.

The Youngsters Have Vacation For Two Weeks.

The public schools closed this afternoon, and the students will be given two weeks in which to enjoy life and prepare for the trials of the next term. Exercises of a literary nature were held in all of the rooms, and many teachers made the little ones happy with the usual Christmas treat.

Miss Claribel Preston will spend the holidays with her parents at Oswego, N. Y.

Miss Ella Betz, teacher of the B grammar grade, will visit at her home in Lancaster.

Miss Bertha W. McVay, instructor in Latin, will be accompanied by Mrs. Andrew Watson, of Sixth street, on a visit to relatives in Athens.

Miss Grace Morgan, of the Grant street building, will visit her mother at Wooster.

Miss Anna B. Bentley leaves tomorrow for a few days with her parents at Kensington.

Mrs. Mary A. Edwards, principal of the Grant street school, will visit friends at Hanoverton.

Miss Isabel Little, of the Sixth grade of the Central building, will spend her vacation with friends in Homeworth.

Miss Jessie Huston, instructor in science in the high school, goes to visit her parents in Hamilton.

Miss Annie Austin has arranged to spend the vacation at the home of her parents in Industry.

Mrs. Della Hayes contemplates a visit with friends in Pittsburg.

ANOTHER DIVORCE.

The Mill Continues to Grind at Lisbon's Court House.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Jeannette Stratton was granted a divorce last night from her husband, William D. Stratton, and given the custody of her minor children. Desertion is the charge.

Information was made in probate court this morning against John R. Croft, a 14-year-old youth of Knox township. He is charged with larceny, arson and incorrigability, but the hearing was postponed.

Among the marriage licenses issued today was one which allows the marriage of Earnest Elkin and Hester Till, both of East Liverpool.

AN INCIDENT.

How They Maintain the Quarantine at Bridgeport.

Railroad men, who find little else than the smallpox situation down the river to discuss, relate an incident of how the quarantine is maintained at Bridgeport. Three men, who had in some way been slightly exposed and were quarantined, got away and went to Bellaire. They were captured and fined $10 each with the injunction not to attempt it again. Two behaved themselves, but the third ran away, and the officers were soon after him. He was caught and given a fine of $40 as a reminder that the situation is critical, and he must obey the law.

READY FOR THE PLAGUE.

Vaccination is the Order of the Hour in Town.

The action of the board of health in ordering vaccination is approved in all parts of town, and notices are being posted in the potteries ordering employes to bring certificates of vaccination with them when they come to work. Doctor Ogden vaccinated the police last night, and each member of the board of health declared his intention of falling into line.

There now seems little question that young Mercer has the varioloid, as the symptoms are all in that direction. It is not a bad case, however, and he will not be ill long.

GOING LOWER.

The Water In the River Is on a Decline.

The water is falling steadily, and last night dropped three inches. The ice broke yesterday afternoon, having shown signs of dissolution all day. It was not heavy enough to cause damage, and slipped quietly away, without noise or ostentation. A vast quantity of heavy ice passed the city last night, and the channel contained not a little this morning. Rain is prophesied by the weather bureau, but the rivermen are afraid to predict a rise—they have been disappointed so often.

SETTLING UP.

The Poultry Association Will Meet in a Few Weeks.

The officers of the poultry association that gave such a successful exhibition in Bradshaw hall last week, are arranging to wind up the business of the exhibition and see how they stand. As near as the incomplete returns show they made no money; but that was not their object, since they only desired to interest the public. The association will meet in this city soon after the first of the year, when all the business will be settled up.

A KENNEL CLUB.

One Will be Formed in the City This Evening.

The dog fanciers of the city have been discussing these past few weeks the advisability of forming a kennel club, and a meeting will be held this evening for that purpose. Officers will be elected, and a permanent organization formed. It has been found that the city is filled with blooded dogs of high degree, there being no less than 142 in town. In the near future the club expects to conduct a bench show.

A SPIKE IN HIS FOOT.

Ira Aiken Suffered an Accident in the Oil Fields.

Ira Aiken, a young man who was well known in this city a year or two ago, but who has been recently in the oil field about Mermill, O., is home, and walks with crutches. Not long ago he was at work when he stepped on a large spike and the thing went through his foot. It made a wound so painful that Aiken was compelled to quit work and come home. He is getting along as well as could be expected, but still suffers.

A CHURCH WEDDING.

It Will Take Place on Christmas Night In the M. E. Church.

One of the most pleasant events of the winter will be a wedding which will take place in the First M. E. church on Christmas evening, Doctor Huston performing the ceremony. The contracting parties are Mr. Louis DeBee and Miss Elizabeth McClosky, the lady being the daughter of Mail-carrier McClosky. A large number of friends will attend the wedding and the reception which is to follow.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE.

A Cleveland Club Wants a Game With the Rovers.

The Rovers have received a challenge from the West End Athletic club of Cleveland for a game of foot ball in this city not later than New Year's. The challenge has been accepted, and a strong team will be put in the field by the local management. That will likely end the season although the Rovers feel that they can endure a few more games without inconvenience.

A Steubenville Wedding.

Miss Anna Knox, of Steubenville, who has been visiting friends here, will return to her home next week to wed a business man of that place. Miss Sara Dennis will act as bridesmaid.

HE WEARS NO PANTS

But Wanders in Center Alley, Scaring Women.

HAS BEEN AT IT FOR MONTHS

The Fellows Makes an Exhibition of Himself and Does Not Seem to Fear Capture. He is a Big Fellow and Always Escapes by Flight.

Some individual has been causing excitement in the lower part of the city by wandering around without sufficient covering to allow his appearing in the haunts of man with decency.

It is not known who this strange individual is, but he has appeared on several different occasions, and each time he lacked a pair of trousers. One family residing in the alley between Second and Third streets allowed the kitchen door to remain open the other night, and later one of them entered the room. The lady was surprised beyond measure to find that it was occupied by this individual without pants. He seemed startled at the sight of a woman, and fled in haste. A man chanced to meet him in the alley a few nights afterward, and thinking he was some somnambulist, was about to slip quietly by and watch his movements, but the fellow took fright and ran down the alley. He has been seen on several other occasions, and always at night, without his trowsers. Whether he is demented, or is some one playing a practical joke on the people in the hopes of frightening them, is unknown. Every effort to discover the identity of the man has ended in naught, but residents who have seen him and been annoyed by his presence propose to capture him the next time he appears and have the matter ended. He is described as a tall man, broad shouldered, and at times wears a cap, but usually a slouch hat. He has annoyed residents for as long as three months, but can not be located. One night he visited the house of Mail Carrier McClosky, who has since kept his big dog unchained in the yard. At another time he entered the yard of Mrs. Powell and frightened her. The fellow has also visited the Larkins residence, and scared Mrs. Larkins, who was ill, so that she became worse. The police have been notified, and if the fellow is captured he will get a good dose of justice.

ANN HOUSER ARRESTED.

Rev. R. B. Whitehead and Detective Huckle Made the Charge.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Officers Jennings and Earle, accompanied by Detective Huckle, went to the house of Ann Houser on the Lisbon road and placed her under arrest. The action was taken on a warrant sworn out this morning by Rev. R. B. Whitehead and Detective Huckle which charges the woman with keeping a house of ill-fame on various dates, Nov. 2 being the one specified. At 4:15 she had not been taken to city hall.

SNEAK THIEVES,

Got Away With Doctor Sloan's Harness.

Two years ago Doctor Sloan, of Fifth street, was visited by a sneak thief who got away with a portion of the harness hanging in his stable, and he has not been troubled with thieves since until last night. During the night some one entered the doctor's stable and took the best part of a set of harness, leaving no trace that would lead to his identity. This is the second theft of the kind in the city within a month, and persons who have stables should keep them locked.

AT LAST!

One of the New Street Cars Has Arrived.

There was a story on the street this morning that the new street cars were arriving and would all be here in a few days. When asked about the rumor, Superintendent Andrews stated that he had heard one car had reached Wellsville, but beyond that he could not tell.

An old car left the track at Brady bend this morning and traffic was delayed for a short time. No one was hurt, and nothing serious resulted from the accident.

In Squire's Court.

Judgment was this morning given J. C. McClain in the court of Squire Rose against Grant McKinnon for $49.15.

Constable Lyon has appraised the goods of Patrick Sullivan in the case of Sullivan versus Sullivan, and they will be sold at auction Dec. 30.

Two behaved themselves, but the third ran away, and the officers were soon after him. He was caught and given a fine of $40 as a reminder that the situation is critical, and he must obey the law.

READY FOR THE PLAGUE.

Vaccination is the Order of the Hour in Town.

The action of the board of health in ordering vaccination is approved in all parts of town, and notices are being posted in the potteries ordering employes to bring certificates of vaccination with them when they come to work. Doctor Ogden vaccinated the police last night, and each member of the board of health declared his intention of falling into line.

There now seems little question that young Mercer has the varioloid, as the symptoms are all in that direction. It is not a bad case, however, and he will not be ill long.

GOING LOWER.

The Water In the River Is on a Decline.

The water is falling steadily, and last night dropped three inches. The ice broke yesterday afternoon, having shown signs of dissolution all day. It was not heavy enough to cause damage, and slipped quietly away, without noise or ostentation. A vast quantity of heavy ice passed the city last night, and the channel contained not a little this morning. Rain is prophesied by the weather bureau, but the rivermen are afraid to predict a rise—they have been disappointed so often.

SETTLING UP.

The Poultry Association Will Meet in a Few Weeks.

The officers of the poultry association that gave such a successful exhibition in Bradshaw hall last week, are arranging to wind up the business of the exhibition and see how they stand. As near as the incomplete returns show they made no money; but that was not their object, since they only desired to interest the public. The association will meet in this city soon after the first of the year, when all the business will be settled up.

A KENNEL CLUB.

One Will be Formed in the City This Evening.

The dog fanciers of the city have been discussing these past few weeks the advisability of forming a kennel club, and a meeting will be held this evening for that purpose. Officers will be elected, and a permanent organization formed. It has been found that the city is filled with blooded dogs of high degree, there being no less than 142 in town. In the near future the club expects to conduct a bench show.

A SPIKE IN HIS FOOT.

Ira Aiken Suffered an Accident in the Oil Fields.

Ira Aiken, a young man who was well known in this city a year or two ago, but who has been recently in the oil field about Mermill, O., is home, and walks with crutches. Not long ago he was at work when he stepped on a large spike and the thing went through his foot. It made a wound so painful that Aiken was compelled to quit work and come home. He is getting along as well as could be expected, but still suffers.

A CHURCH WEDDING.

It Will Take Place on Christmas Night In the M. E. Church.

One of the most pleasant events of the winter will be a wedding which will take place in the First M. E. church on Christmas evening, Doctor Huston performing the ceremony. The contracting parties are Mr. Louis DeBee and Miss Elizabeth McClosky, the lady being the daughter of Mail-carrier McClosky. A large number of friends will attend the wedding and the reception which is to follow.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE.

A Cleveland Club Wants a Game With the Rovers.

The Rovers have received a challenge from the West End Athletic club of Cleveland for a game of foot ball in this city not later than New Year's. The challenge has been accepted, and a strong team will be put in the field by the local management. That will likely end the season although the Rovers feel that they can endure a few more games without inconvenience.

A Steubenville Wedding.

Miss Anna Knox, of Steubenville, who has been visiting friends here, will return to her home next week to wed a business man of that place. Miss Sara Dennis will act as bridesmaid.

HE WEARS NO PANTS

But Wanders in Center Alley, Scaring Women.

HAS BEEN AT IT FOR MONTHS

The Fellows Makes an Exhibition of Himself and Does Not Seem to Fear Capture. He is a Big Fellow and Always Escapes by Flight.

Some individual has been causing excitement in the lower part of the city by wandering around without sufficient covering to allow his appearing in the haunts of man with decency.

It is not known who this strange individual is, but he has appeared on several different occasions, and each time he lacked a pair of trousers. One family residing in the alley between Second and Third streets allowed the kitchen door to remain open the other night, and later one of them entered the room. The lady was surprised beyond measure to find that it was occupied by this individual without pants. He seemed startled at the sight of a woman, and fled in haste. A man chanced to meet him in the alley a few nights afterward, and thinking he was some somnambulist, was about to slip quietly by and watch his movements, but the fellow took fright and ran down the alley. He has been seen on several other occasions, and always at night, without his trowsers. Whether he is demented, or is some one playing a practical joke on the people in the hopes of frightening them, is unknown. Every effort to discover the identity of the man has ended in naught, but residents who have seen him and been annoyed by his presence propose to capture him the next time he appears and have the matter ended. He is described as a tall man, broad shouldered, and at times wears a cap, but usually a slouch hat. He has annoyed residents for as long as three months, but can not be located. One night he visited the house of Mail Carrier McClosky, who has since kept his big dog unchained in the yard. At another time he entered the yard of Mrs. Powell and frightened her. The fellow has also visited the Larkins residence, and scared Mrs. Larkins, who was ill, so that she became worse. The police have been notified, and if the fellow is captured he will get a good dose of justice.

ANN HOUSER ARRESTED.

Rev. R. B. Whitehead and Detective Huckle Made the Charge.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Officers Jennings and Earle, accompanied by Detective Huckle, went to the house of Ann Houser on the Lisbon road and placed her under arrest. The action was taken on a warrant sworn out this morning by Rev. R. B. Whitehead and Detective Huckle which charges the woman with keeping a house of ill-fame on various dates, Nov. 2 being the one specified. At 4:15 she had not been taken to city hall.

SNEAK THIEVES,

Got Away With Doctor Sloan's Harness.

Two years ago Doctor Sloan, of Fifth street, was visited by a sneak thief who got away with a portion of the harness hanging in his stable, and he has not been troubled with thieves since until last night. During the night some one entered the doctor's stable and took the best part of a set of harness, leaving no trace that would lead to his identity. This is the second theft of the kind in the city within a month, and persons who have stables should keep them locked.

AT LAST!

One of the New Street Cars Has Arrived.

There was a story on the street this morning that the new street cars were arriving and would all be here in a few days. When asked about the rumor, Superintendent Andrews stated that he had heard one car had reached Wellsville, but beyond that he could not tell.

An old car left the track at Brady bend this morning and traffic was delayed for a short time. No one was hurt, and nothing serious resulted from the accident.

In Squire's Court.

Judgment was this morning given J. C. McClain in the court of Squire Rose against Grant McKinnon for $49.15.

Constable Lyon has appraised the goods of Patrick Sullivan in the case of Sullivan versus Sullivan, and they will be sold at auction Dec. 30.

UNION LABEL

For President,
WILLIAM McKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

LISBON can no longer be counted among the slow towns of the county since smallpox developed so soon after the afflicted one reached the village.

ACCORDING to the American press the tail of the British lion has received enough twists these past few days to transform it into a serviceable rope.

THAT move for the abolition of the spring election seems to have met an early death. Perhaps the wise men of Akron realize the extent of their blunder.

THAT highly interesting and expensive journal that has won fame under the name of Congressional Record, again burdens the mails and reposes peacefully in many an editor's waste basket.

DOCTOR PROBST spoke sound sense when he talked to the board of health yesterday afternoon, and showed clearly that the closest quarantine and the strictest precautions are not too expensive when there is danger of the smallpox spreading, and there is always danger when there is a case in the community. Doctor Probst knows whereof he speaks, and says that one of the afflicted towns down the river is just now reaping the benefit of what its inexperienced board of health believed was economy.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

That part of the message which President Monroe sent to Congress in December of 1823, and has since been known as the Monroe doctrine, is as follows:

"With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered and shall not interfere. But with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles acknowledged, we could not interview any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny by any European power in any other light than the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States."

It tells the whole story of our policy. We have had nothing to do with lawful possessions of Great Britain in this hemisphere, and it is our duty to see that the grasping hand of Great Britain will not wrench from the weak republics of the south the land and liberty for which they fought.

THE JUNIOR CLASS.

THE FATAL FIREDAMP.

A Deadly Explosion In North Carolina Mines.

KILLED THOUGHT TO NUMBER 43.

The Explosion Ignited Dynamite, Which Added Its Destructiveness—Bodies Terribly Mutilated—Some of the Victims Were Pennsylvanians.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 20.—A terrible explosion has occurred in the Egypt coal mines at Cumnock, N. C.

Forty-three are reported to have been killed outright, although the names of the dead are not given. The explosion was heard distinctly at Moncure, 14 miles distant. Physicians were summoned from the neighboring town, and were on the scene within two hours.

From the force of the explosion, it was at first supposed that everyone in the mines had been killed. The coal mines are the largest in North Carolina. They are owned by the Langdon-Hespey Coal Mining company of Pennsylvania.

Some of the killed were negroes and foreigners and the rest natives of North Carolina. Several had families living at Cumnock. Eight of the dead miners were from Pennsylvania and expected to return to that state to visit relatives. A quantity of dynamite was in the mine and exploded, wrecking coal cars and splitting massive pieces of timber into kindling wood.

Mothers, wives and sisters are around the mines weeping and wringing their hands with grief, expecting every minute to see the lifeless form of some loved one brought up. Excitement runs high.

Sixty-seven men were at work in the mines. A terrible firedamp explosion caused the disaster. Upon hearing the report the people of the village and relatives of the entombed miners hastened to the scene, but for some time they were unable to get any tidings from below. After pumping fresh air into the shafts several miners were prevailed upon to venture down and investigate. They found and brought out 25 men from shafts No. 2 and 3. Five or six of them were badly wounded and some of them will probably die, others were slightly wounded. A mule and two men were killed in slope No. 2. After considerable delay the searching party entered slope No. 1, where they were greeted by a most horrible and ghastly sight. Dead men, fearfully mutilated, were found. Some of them were partly covered up with pieces of coal, timber and other debris.

SATOLLI MADE A CARDINAL.

In His Speech He Refers to the Present Patriotic Manifestation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The delivery to Mgr. Satolli of the zachetto (a small red skull cap) and the consistoral letter informing him of his elevation to the cardinalship, which are preliminary to the conferring upon him of the zachetto, took place at the Catholic legation here last evening. The duty was performed by the Marquis Secrapanti, the pope's messenger.

Among those invited to witness the ceremony were Ambassador Patenotre, Minister de Lome, the minister from Switzerland, Bishop Keane and many dignitaries of the Catholic church.

The new cardinal in his speech spoke with great admiration of the quickness with which the American people, though divided in some respects, had become united, when the interests of the country seemed in danger, referring to our dispute with England.

JAY'S TREATY COMMEMORATED

Notable Men Present at the American Commercial Banquet In New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Patriotic decorations and patriotic speeches were the order last night at the American Commercial banquet given at Delmonico's It was the centennial celebration of the Jay commercial treaty with Great Britain, as well as the inauguration of the annual observance of "Commercial day" by all organized commercial bodies. Many men of the world were present, and over 300 guests were seated.

Dr. Chauncey M. Depew presided, and with him on either side of the table of honor sat Mayor Strong, Secretary of the Navy Herbert, William Jay, a direct descendant of the statesman who secured the Jay treaty, General Alger, Bishop Potter and many others of note.

Alaskan Dispute Can Be Settled.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20.—William King, British commissioner, has returned to Ottawa from Washington, where he has been for several days comparing notes of the Alaskan boundary survey with the United States commissioner, General Duffield. It is said that the two commissioners, after comparing data, have decided that they can agree upon a joint report.

A Samoan Queen Dead.

APIA, Samoa, Dec. 20.—Miss Margaret Young, queen of the Samoa group, is dead. She came to the throne as the direct descendant of the royal line on the side of her mother, who married Arthur Young, a trader. The queen was 23 and had reigned four years.

Hannigan Will Go Free.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—David F. Hannigan, who killed Solomon H. Mann, the betrayer of his sister Lorretta, has been adjudged sane, and his release from the state asylum at Poughkeepsie will probably take place on Saturday next.

A Murderer Hung.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20.—Theodore Lambert has been hanged in the Camden jail. Lambert's crime was the murder of William G. Kairer, a wealthy Camden baker on Dec. 4, 1893, while robbing his son's house.

An Uprising Feared.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 20. — It is feared that there will be a general uprising of the island of Crete. The governor of that island has made an urgent request for reinforcements.

REPUBLICS TO UNITE.

An Alliance of American Nations to Be Formed

TO PREVENT EUROPEAN MEDDLING

Ministers of Three South American Countries Hold a Conference With Secretary Olney—The Senate Defers Action on the Venezuelan Commission Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — Ministers Andrade of Venezuela, Mendoca of Brazil and Romero of Mexico, representing three of the first republics of South and Central America, have made a call on Secretary Olney. Though this was diplomatic reception day at the state department their call at this particular time occasioned much comment.

Although none of the Central and South American diplomats will consent to be quoted regarding their call, it is known that they, as a rule, have cabled their governments that the present seems an opportune time for invoking the Monroe doctrine as a means of support against European powers, several of them being involved in disputes with European nations at this time. The statement is made by one of them that several important results will follow from the vigorous construction of the Monroe doctrine. First, it is said, will be the official adherence of the southern republics, making the declaration practically unanimous from the countries of the western hemisphere. It is pointed out that Lord Salisbury insisted that the Monroe doctrine was not recognized as international law, but this, it is said, will be answered by a showing that all the republics of North and South America accept it as the law governing them.

The preject of another conference of American republics, in line with the Pan-American conference, but with a view to political alliance rather than commercial reciprocity, is being discussed also. There has been a number of these conferences, largely devoted to academic discussion, but the strong assertion of the Monroe doctrine would give a practical aspect to such a meeting.

How far these hopes and purposes of the southern countries were communicated to Mr. Olney is not known, but he was doubtless made aware of the strong prevailing feeling, and the intention to give it official expression as soon as word could be received from the several governments represented.

The suggestion is made with much directness in diplomatic circles that the course of the United States assures to it the moral and physical support of all the Southern and Central American republics. In the aggregate this allied strength of the western republics, with the United States as its head, would constitute a new and formidable factor in international affairs. It is not suggested among diplomatists that such an alliance will take the formal shape of a treaty, but it is urged that the feeling of union existing constitutes a compact quite as effective as a formal understanding.

Senator Morgan, at present chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, has had an interview with Secretary Olney on the subject of the Venezuelan issue and the secretary also talked with Senator Lodge and Senator Mills on the same matter. He was also for a short time closeted with Mr. McAdoo, the acting secretary of the navy, who was called upon to furnish information on some special subject.

Admiral Bunce, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, came up to Washington from his flagship New York, in Hampton Roads, and had a consultation with Acting Secretary McAdoo respecting the movements of his squadron. The feeling is growing in naval circles that the cruise will be abandoned, for it is now regarded as slighly imprudent to send away from the country the only substantial defence of the Atlantic seaboard. There is also a suggestion that it would be prudent to recall the Mediterranean squadron comprising three of our finest cruisers, which would be left hopelessly "bottled up" in the event that matters took a bad turn.

The spirit of Americanism still brooded over the senate, but, although every senator who spoke upon the subject endorsed the position of the president, all expressed the opinion that war would not result. Still the gravity of the situation was not underestimated. The "war talk" of the last few days attracted to the galleries large crowds, who followed the debate with intense interest. The immediate question before the senate was the house bill appropriating $100,000 to defray the expenses of the commission recommended by the president. There was some difference of opinion as to what disposition should be made of it, the general opinion being that it should go to the committee on foreign relations. The debate, however, had no practical result, as Mr. Allen of Nebraska, a Populist, objected to the second reading of the bill. Before Venezuelan discussion occurred Mr. Cockrell presented with a favorable report the house resolution for a holiday recess beginning today, but Mr. Chandler (Rep., N. H.) asked that it lie on the table.

Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.) caused a broad smile to go around the chamber when he asked for the immediate consideration of a lengthy resolution reciting that in view of the possible contingency of war with Great Britain as a result of the conflict over the Venezuelan boundary dispute, and that the first essential in time of war was money, that the committee on finance be instructed to inquire into the advisability of opening the mints to the free coinage of silver. After some good-natured sparring, Mr. Gorman (Dem., Md.) objected to its consideration.

A San Francisco special says: It is understood in naval circles that the vessels of the Asiatic squadron will all be ordered to report at San Francisco, and that the message has already been forwarded from Washington.

ENGLISH NOT SO FLIPPANT.

They Now Consider the Venezuelan Dispute as Serious.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—In commenting upon the Venezuelan question the newspapers now generally agree that the situation is much more serious than they thought it to be. In the public mind also there is a general feeling of disappointment at the action of congress is supporting the stand taken by President Cleveland in his message to that body.

The Globe, a high Conservative organ and a newspaper which may be supposed to be on terms of intimacy with the government, gives warning that Great Britain will remain firm, saying: "President Cleveland may appoint a dozen commissions, but England will remain firm in her refusal to recognize them and jurisdiction of this sort. This is our unalterable position, be the consequences what they may. We will never submit to such unparalleled dictation."

The Globe is also irate at the recent utterances of Dr. Chauncey M. Depew, especially his references to the easy manner in which the United Statescould conquer Canada, remarking: "The overwhelming naval strength of England would enable her to pour troops into Canada at any sign of danger, and small warships could be sent to the lakes, and Chicago, Detroit and Buffalo would be utterly at their mercy."

The Westminster Gazette says: "The Marquis of Salisbury has made a mistake in arguing that the Monroe doctrine is obsolete. It is not so by any means. It would most rightly apply, should European powers attempt to apply American doctrines to the Hinterland of Africa. The first duty of those defending England is to explain and insist that it is not the doctrine itself, but only its applicability to the present question of the boundaries which is in dispute."

The St. James Gazette expresses the opinion that the speech of the United States ambassador, Mr. Thomas F. Bayard, at the dinner of the Actors' benevolent fund, was "Everything that could be friendly, passionately, pathetically friendly to this country." "But," The St. James Gazette says, "unfortunately Mr. Bayard is himself under a cloud as regards the American public."

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the chancellor of the exchequer, has made an address at a Conservative banquet in Bristol which contained an important suggestion of the probable next steps to be taken by the British government in the Venezuelan controversy, namely, the issuance of a statement by Lord Salisbury, which Sir Michael intimated might put a new face on affairs. The chancellor of the exchequer warned his hearers against exaggerating the gravity of the Venezuelan trouble. Some persons, he went on, however, to say, talk of the impossibility of war between the United States and Great Britain because of the ties of kinship between the two nations. Nothing was impossible, he asserted, which had already occurred, and if kinsmen unfortunately differed, sometimes they became very bitter enemies. But there was reassurance, he said, in the fact that he did not believe the people on either side of the Atlantic desired war. He thought that when the true statement which Lord Salisbury had ably prepared in dispatches was shortly published, the result would be happy, honorable and peaceful to both sidee.

A dispatch from Manchester says that President Macar of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners has said in an interview that war between Great Britain and the United States would entail incalculable loss and misery upon the Lancashire cotton workers, as five-sixths of the raw material necessary to feed the Lancashire spindles comes from America.

BAYARD MAY BE RECALLED.

His London Speech Said to Have Offended the President and Olney.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—A dispatch to The Standard from Washington asserts that Ambassador Bayard's speech at the dinner of the Actors' Benevolent fund, reported in these dispatches yesterday, has offended both President Cleveland and Secretary Olney.

The dispatch further says it is likely to be the ostensible cause of his recall.

Secretary Herbert and Carnegie Confer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Secretary Herbert has been at the Hotel Imperial. Among his visitors was Andrew Carnegie, who was closeted with the secretary of the navy for some two hours.

Daly's Wife Divorced.

HARTFORD, Dec. 20.—A divorce has been granted to Mrs. W. T. Daly from her husband, "Father Bill" Daly, the well-known turfman, on the ground of cruelty. Mrs. Daly will receive $15,000 alimony.

Twelve Soldiers Killed.

BUENOS AYRES, Dec. 20.—A portion of the barracks here have collapsed with disastrous results. Twelve soldiers, who were in the building at the time, were killed and 60 were injured.

Attempt at Double Suicide.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 20.—Ray Curran, 26 years of age, and Katie Taft, aged aged 23, have attempted suicide by taking morphine on the lake front. The young woman will probably die.

A Filerbustering Case Dismissed.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Dec. 20.—The case against Captain Wiberg, of the Danish steamer Horsa, suspected of conveying arms, ammunition and men to Cuba, has been dismissed.

HARRY HAYWARD'S CONFESSION.

He Admits That He Murdered Five People During His Career.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 20.—The antemortem statement of Harry T. Hayward, the full text of which, making 30,000 words, is in many respects a most remarkable document. It was made under the most formal conditions and with solemn assertions on the murderer's part that he was telling the truth. Not only does Hayward claim to have murdered during his brief career no less than five different persons, but in describing the various tragedies in which he figured, he shows an utter absence of human feeling and a pleasure in his achievements that mark him as an unusual type of criminal. The language used in describing his criminal adventures is in the same careless, flippant style that characterized his testimony on the stand.

His first murder was that of Carrie Haas, near Pasadena, Cal., whom he killed for $700. He goes on to describe how he got her money on some pretext, inveigled her out to drive in the mountains and how he shot her. It was a fizzle, he said, because he did not figure it out as carefully as he would have done later. She did not die at once, but flopped around. He buried her as best he could, but worried about it afterwards, and hired a man two weeks after to go out and put her in a box and throw it into the port at Los Angeles. Money, he said, was his first object in life, girls the second and travel the third. There was a girl in Minneapolis, with whom he was going, and who had $2,000 a year. He planned to kill her, but did not because there was no way he could get her money. But he longed to do the deed.

Once, when tending bar in Long Branch, he had killed a consumptive man who came there and who had money. The consumptive had money and wanted to die. The name Harry refused to tell, on the ground that he had an accomplice who might get in trouble now. But this murder was by shooting, too, and the body was thrown into the river. Then there was the Chinaman, killed in a gambling quarrel, and the brother of the Mexican girl at El Paso Del Norte, and lastly Miss Ging. The object of the Ging murder was money and hatred. He hated the girl because she was so stingy—he had obtained $3,800 of her money—and she was mean and suspicious. She had a way of putting her hands on him and pinching him that made him so mad he wanted to choke her, and could scarcely keep from it until the time was ripe.

The stories of Blixt and Adry on the stand were practically correct, and Harry exonerated Adry from all criminal connection with any of his schemes. Blixt, he said, was surely hypnotized and was not responsible.

BUFFALO NEEDS REFORMING.

A Municipal Investigation Reveals Much Corruption In That City.

BUFFALO, Dec. 20. — Mayor Jewitt has given out his decision in the late municipal investigation into the affairs of the department of public works. He finds that the payrolls of the bureau of streets have been stuffed, but refrains from expressing an opinion as to who are the guilty persons, as two officials of the department are now being prosecuted.

He finds further there is just cause for criticism on account of the small amount of time given the affairs of the department by the commissioners of public works; that there were conspiracies among teamsters and foremen in the bureau of streets to defraud the city; and that political assessments were levied and collected. He holds all the commissioners equally accountable for the extravagant order for iron pipe given to a firm whose stock was held in part by relalatives of General Field, one of the commissioners.

Another Plot Against Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—The steamer Alameda, from Honolulu, brings word that W. J. Sheridan and Dr. James Underwood, recent arrivals, have been arrested charged with conspiring to overthrow the government and the republic of Hawaii. The authorities claim these men came to Hawaii for that purpose, that they conspired between themselves and others to overthrow the government. The conspiracy was effected partly at San Francisco and partly here. They were laying plans for an uprising of a character that would have proved serious.

Coppinger Case Postponed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The senate committee on military affairs has decided to postpone action on the nomination of Colonel J. J. Coppinger to be brigadier general, against whom the A. P. A. has filed charges, until after the holidays. This delay in this instance will also involve the postponement of the consideration of the nominations of other officers, whose promotions are dependent upon that of General Coppinger.

Secret Treaty Between China and Russia.

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 20. — The Nichi Nichi confirms the report that China has offered Chan-Sombay to Russia for a winter station. Advices received here from Vladivostock say that the secret treaty between Russia and China is an accomplished fact and that a survey of the proposed railway from Siberia through Manchuria has been ordered.

UNION LABEL

For President,
WILLIAM McKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

LISBON can no longer be counted among the slow towns of the county since smallpox developed so soon after the afflicted one reached the village.

ACCORDING to the American press the tail of the British lion has received enough twists these past few days to transform it into a serviceable rope.

THAT move for the abolition of the spring election seems to have met an early death. Perhaps the wise men of Akron realize the extent of their blunder.

THAT highly interesting and expensive journal that has won fame under the name of Congressional Record, again burdens the mails and reposes peacefully in many an editor's waste basket.

DOCTOR PROBST spoke sound sense when he talked to the board of health yesterday afternoon, and showed clearly that the closest quarantine and the strictest precautions are not too expensive when there is danger of the smallpox spreading, and there is always danger when there is a case in the community. Doctor Probst knows whereof he speaks, and says that one of the afflicted towns down the river is just now reaping the benefit of what its inexperienced board of health believed was economy.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

That part of the message which President Monroe sent to Congress in December of 1823, and has since been known as the Monroe doctrine, is as follows:

"With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered and shall not interfere. But with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles acknowledged, we could not interview any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny by any European power in any other light than the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States."

It tells the whole story of our policy. We have had nothing to do with lawful possessions of Great Britain in this hemisphere, and it is our duty to see that the grasping hand of Great Britain will not wrench from the weak republics of the south the land and liberty for which they fought.

THE FATAL FIREDAMP.

A Deadly Explosion In North Carolina Mines.

KILLED THOUGHT TO NUMBER 43.

The Explosion Ignited Dynamite, Which Added Its Destructiveness—Bodies Terribly Mutilated—Some of the Victims Were Pennsylvanians.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 20.—A terrible explosion has occurred in the Egypt coal mines at Cumnock, N. C.

Forty-three are reported to have been killed outright, although the names of the dead are not given. The explosion was heard distinctly at Moncure, 14 miles distant. Physicians were summoned from the neighboring town, and were on the scene within two hours.

From the force of the explosion, it was at first supposed that everyone in the mines had been killed. The coal mines are the largest in North Carolina. They are owned by the Langdon-Hespey Coal Mining company of Pennsylvania.

Some of the killed were negroes and foreigners and the rest natives of North Carolina. Several had families living at Cumnock. Eight of the dead miners were from Pennsylvania and expected to return to that state to visit relatives. A quantity of dynamite was in the mine and exploded, wrecking coal cars and splitting massive pieces of timber into kindling wood.

Mothers, wives and sisters are around the mines weeping and wringing their hands with grief, expecting every minute to see the lifeless form of some loved one brought up. Excitement runs high.

Sixty-seven men were at work in the mines. A terrible firedamp explosion caused the disaster. Upon hearing the report the people of the village and relatives of the entombed miners hastened to the scene, but for some time they were unable to get any tidings from below. After pumping fresh air into the shafts several miners were prevailed upon to venture down and investigate. They found and brought out 25 men from shafts No. 2 and 3. Five or six of them were badly wounded and some of them will probably die, others were slightly wounded. A mule and two men were killed in slope No. 2. After considerable delay the searching party entered slope No. 1, where they were greeted by a most horrible and ghastly sight. Dead men, fearfully mutilated, were found. Some of them were partly covered up with pieces of coal, timber and other debris.

SATOLLI MADE A CARDINAL.

In His Speech He Refers to the Present Patriotic Manifestation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The delivery to Mgr. Satolli of the zachetto (a small red skull cap) and the consistoral letter informing him of his elevation to the cardinalship, which are preliminary to the conferring upon him of the zachetto, took place at the Catholic legation here last evening. The duty was performed by the Marquis Secrapanti, the pope's messenger.

Among those invited to witness the ceremony were Ambassador Patenotre, Minister de Lome, the minister from Switzerland, Bishop Keane and many dignitaries of the Catholic church.

The new cardinal in his speech spoke with great admiration of the quickness with which the American people, though divided in some respects, had become united, when the interests of the country seemed in danger, referring to our dispute with England.

JAY'S TREATY COMMEMORATED

Notable Men Present at the American Commercial Banquet In New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Patriotic decorations and patriotic speeches were the order last night at the American Commercial banquet given at Delmonico's It was the centennial celebration of the Jay commercial treaty with Great Britain, as well as the inauguration of the annual observance of "Commercial day" by all organized commercial bodies. Many men of the world were present, and over 300 guests were seated.

Dr. Chauncey M. Depew presided, and with him on either side of the table of honor sat Mayor Strong, Secretary of the Navy Herbert, William Jay, a direct descendant of the statesman who secured the Jay treaty, General Alger, Bishop Potter and many others of note.

Alaskan Dispute Can Be Settled.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20.—William King, British commissioner, has returned to Ottawa from Washington, where he has been for several days comparing notes of the Alaskan boundary survey with the United States commissioner, General Duffield. It is said that the two commissioners, after comparing data, have decided that they can agree upon a joint report.

A Samoan Queen Dead.

APIA, Samoa, Dec. 20.—Miss Margaret Young, queen of the Samoa group, is dead. She came to the throne as the direct descendant of the royal line on the side of her mother, who married Arthur Young, a trader. The queen was 23 and had reigned four years.

Hannigan Will Go Free.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—David F. Hannigan, who killed Solomon H. Mann, the betrayer of his sister Lorretta, has been adjudged sane, and his release from the state asylum at Poughkeepsie will probably take place on Saturday next.

A Murderer Hung.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20.—Theodore Lambert has been hanged in the Camden jail. Lambert's crime was the murder of William G. Kairer, a wealthy Camden baker on Dec. 4, 1893, while robbing his son's house.

REPUBLICS TO UNITE.

An Alliance of American Nations to Be Formed

TO PREVENT EUROPEAN MEDDLING

Ministers of Three South American Countries Hold a Conference With Secretary Olney—The Senate Defers Action on the Venezuelan Commission Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — Ministers Andrade of Venezuela, Mendoca of Brazil and Romero of Mexico, representing three of the first republics of South and Central America, have made a call on Secretary Olney. Though this was diplomatic reception day at the state department their call at this particular time occasioned much comment.

Although none of the Central and South American diplomats will consent to be quoted regarding their call, it is known that they, as a rule, have cabled their governments that the present seems an opportune time for invoking the Monroe doctrine as a means of support against European powers, several of them being involved in disputes with European nations at this time. The statement is made by one of them that several important results will follow from the vigorous construction of the Monroe doctrine. First, it is said, will be the official adherence of the southern republics, making the declaration practically unanimous from the countries of the western hemisphere. It is pointed out that Lord Salisbury insisted that the Monroe doctrine was not recognized as international law, but this, it is said, will be answered by a showing that all the republics of North and South America accept it as the law governing them.

The project of another conference of American republics, in line with the Pan-American conference, but with a view to political alliance rather than commercial reciprocity, is being discussed also. There has been a number of these conferences, largely devoted to academic discussion, but the strong assertion of the Monroe doctrine would give a practical aspect to such a meeting.

How far these hopes and purposes of the southern countries were communicated to Mr. Olney is not known, but he was doubtless made aware of the strong prevailing feeling, and the intention to give it official expression as soon as word could be received from the several governments represented.

The suggestion is made with much directness in diplomatic circles that the course of the United States assures to it the moral and physical support of all the Southern and Central American republics. In the aggregate this allied strength of the western republics, with the United States as its head, would constitute a new and formidable factor in international affairs. It is not suggested among diplomatists that such an alliance will take the formal shape of a treaty, but it is urged that the feeling of union existing constitutes a compact quite as effective as a formal understanding.

Senator Morgan, at present chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, has had an interview with Secretary Olney on the subject of the Venezuelan issue and the secretary also talked with Senator Lodge and Senator Mills on the same matter. He was also for a short time closeted with Mr. McAdoo, the acting secretary of the navy, who was called upon to furnish information on some special subject.

Admiral Bunce, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, came up to Washington from his flagship New York, in Hampton Roads, and had a consultation with Acting Secretary McAdoo respecting the movements of his squadron. The feeling is growing in naval circles that the cruise will be abandoned, for it is now regarded as slighly imprudent to send away from the country the only substantial defence of the Atlantic seaboard. There is also a suggestion that it would be prudent to recall the Mediterranean squadron comprising three of our finest cruisers, which would be left hopelessly "bottled up" in the event that matters took a bad turn.

The spirit of Americanism still brooded over the senate, but, although every senator who spoke upon the subject endorsed the position of the president, all expressed the opinion that war would not result. Still the gravity of the situation was not underestimated. The "war talk" of the last few days attracted to the galleries large crowds, who followed the debate with intense interest. The immediate question before the senate was the house bill appropriating $100,000 to defray the expenses of the commission recommended by the president. There was some difference of opinion as to what disposition should be made of it, the general opinion being that it should go to the committee on foreign relations. The debate, however, had no practical result, as Mr. Allen of Nebraska, a Populist, objected to the second reading of the bill. Before Venezuelan discussion occurred Mr. Cockrell presented with a favorable report the house resolution for a holiday recess beginning today, but Mr. Chandler (Rep., N. H.) asked that it lie on the table.

Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.) caused a broad smile to go around the chamber when he asked for the immediate consideration of a lengthy resolution reciting that in view of the possible contingency of war with Great Britain as a result of the conflict over the Venezuelan boundary dispute, and that the first essential in time of war was money, that the committee on finance be instructed to inquire into the advisability of opening the mints to the free coinage of silver. After some good-natured sparring, Mr. Gorman (Dem., Md.) objected to its consideration.

A San Francisco special says: It is understood in naval circles that the vessels of the Asiatic squadron will all be ordered to report at San Francisco, and that the message has already been forwarded from Washington.

ENGLISH NOT SO FLIPPANT.

They Now Consider the Venezuelan Dispute as Serious.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—In commenting upon the Venezuelan question the newspapers now generally agree that the situation is much more serious than they thought it to be. In the public mind also there is a general feeling of disappointment at the action of congress is supporting the stand taken by President Cleveland in his message to that body.

The Globe, a high Conservative organ and a newspaper which may be supposed to be on terms of intimacy with the government, gives warning that Great Britain will remain firm, saying: "President Cleveland may appoint a dozen commissions, but England will remain firm in her refusal to recognize them and jurisdiction of this sort. This is our unalterable position, be the consequences what they may. We will never submit to such unparalleled dictation."

The Globe is also irate at the recent utterances of Dr. Chauncey M. Depew, especially his references to the easy manner in which the United Statescould conquer Canada, remarking: "The overwhelming naval strength of England would enable her to pour troops into Canada at any sign of danger, and small warships could be sent to the lakes, and Chicago, Detroit and Buffalo would be utterly at their mercy."

The Westminster Gazette says: "The Marquis of Salisbury has made a mistake in arguing that the Monroe doctrine is obsolete. It is not so by any means. It would most rightly apply, should European powers attempt to apply American doctrines to the Hinterland of Africa. The first duty of those defending England is to explain and insist that it is not the doctrine itself, but only its applicability to the present question of the boundaries which is in dispute."

The St. James Gazette expresses the opinion that the speech of the United States ambassador, Mr. Thomas F. Bayard, at the dinner of the Actors' benevolent fund, was "Everything that could be friendly, passionately, pathetically friendly to this country." "But," The St. James Gazette says, "unfortunately Mr. Bayard is himself under a cloud as regards the American public."

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the chancellor of the exchequer, has made an address at a Conservative banquet in Bristol which contained an important suggestion of the probable next steps to be taken by the British government in the Venezuelan controversy, namely, the issuance of a statement by Lord Salisbury, which Sir Michael intimated might put a new face on affairs. The chancellor of the exchequer warned his hearers against exaggerating the gravity of the Venezuelan trouble. Some persons, he went on, however, to say, talk of the impossibility of war between the United States and Great Britain because of the ties of kinship between the two nations. Nothing was impossible, he asserted, which had already occurred, and if kinsmen unfortunately differed, sometimes they became very bitter enemies. But there was reassurance, he said, in the fact that he did not believe the people on either side of the Atlantic desired war. He thought that when the true statement which Lord Salisbury had ably prepared in dispatches was shortly published, the result would be happy, honorable and peaceful to both sidee.

A dispatch from Manchester says that President Macar of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners has said in an interview that war between Great Britain and the United States would entail incalculable loss and misery upon the Lancashire cotton workers, as five-sixths of the raw material necessary to feed the Lancashire spindles comes from America.

BAYARD MAY BE RECALLED.

His London Speech Said to Have Offended the President and Olney.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—A dispatch to The Standard from Washington asserts that Ambassador Bayard's speech at the dinner of the Actors' Benevolent fund, reported in these dispatches yesterday, has offended both President Cleveland and Secretary Olney.

The dispatch further says it is likely to be the ostensible cause of his recall.

Secretary Herbert and Carnegie Confer.

HARRY HAYWARD'S CONFESSION.

He Admits That He Murdered Five People During His Career.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 20.—The antemortem statement of Harry T. Hayward, the full text of which, making 30,000 words, is in many respects a most remarkable document. It was made under the most formal conditions and with solemn assertions on the murderer's part that he was telling the truth. Not only does Hayward claim to have murdered during his brief career no less than five different persons, but in describing the various tragedies in which he figured, he shows an utter absence of human feeling and a pleasure in his achievements that mark him as an unusual type of criminal. The language used in describing his criminal adventures is in the same careless, flippant style that characterized his testimony on the stand.

His first murder was that of Carrie Haas, near Pasadena, Cal., whom he killed for $700. He goes on to describe how he got her money on some pretext, inveigled her out to drive in the mountains and how he shot her. It was a fizzle, he said, because he did not figure it out as carefully as he would have done later. She did not die at once, but flopped around. He buried her as best he could, but worried about it afterwards, and hired a man two weeks after to go out and put her in a box and throw it into the port at Los Angeles. Money, he said, was his first object in life, girls the second and travel the third. There was a girl in Minneapolis, with whom he was going, and who had $2,000 a year. He planned to kill her, but did not because there was no way he could get her money. But he longed to do the deed.

Once, when tending bar in Long Branch, he had killed a consumptive man who came there and who had money. The consumptive had money and wanted to die. The name Harry refused to tell, on the ground that he had an accomplice who might get in trouble now. But this murder was by shooting, too, and the body was thrown into the river. Then there was the Chinaman, killed in a gambling quarrel, and the brother of the Mexican girl at El Paso Del Norte, and lastly Miss Ging. The object of the Ging murder was money and hatred. He hated the girl because she was so stingy—he had obtained $3,800 of her money—and she was mean and suspicious. She had a way of putting her hands on him and pinching him that made him so mad he wanted to choke her, and could scarcely keep from it until the time was ripe.

The stories of Blixt and Adry on the stand were practically correct, and Harry exonerated Adry from all criminal connection with any of his schemes. Blixt, he said, was surely hypnotized and was not responsible.

BUFFALO NEEDS REFORMING.

A Municipal Investigation Reveals Much Corruption In That City.

BUFFALO, Dec. 20. — Mayor Jewitt has given out his decision in the late municipal investigation into the affairs of the department of public works. He finds that the payrolls of the bureau of streets have been stuffed, but refrains from expressing an opinion as to who are the guilty persons, as two officials of the department are now being prosecuted.

He finds further there is just cause for criticism on account of the small amount of time given the affairs of the department by the commissioners of public works; that there were conspiracies among teamsters and foremen in the bureau of streets to defraud the city; and that political assessments were levied and collected. He holds all the commissioners equally accountable for the extravagant order for iron pipe given to a firm whose stock was held in part by relalatives of General Field, one of the commissioners.

Another Plot Against Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—The steamer Alameda, from Honolulu, brings word that W. J. Sheridan and Dr. James Underwood, recent arrivals, have been arrested charged with conspiring to overthrow the government and the republic of Hawaii. The authorities claim these men came to Hawaii for that purpose, that they conspired between themselves and others to overthrow the government. The conspiracy was effected partly at San Francisco and partly here. They were laying plans for an uprising of a character that would have proved serious.

Coppinger Case Postponed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The senate committee on military affairs has decided to postpone action on the nomination of Colonel J. J. Coppinger to be brigadier general, against whom the A. P. A. has filed charges, until after the holidays. This delay in this instance will also involve the postponement of the consideration of the nominations of other officers, whose promotions are dependent upon that of General Coppinger.

THE WILL OF THURMAN

His Estate Worth From $160,000 to $170,000.

ALL LEFT TO HIS RELATIVES.

He Does Not Forget the Daughter From Whom He Was Estranged or Her Divorced Husband, Lieutenant Commander Cowles—A List of the Bequests.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 20.—The probated will of the late Senator Thurman shows he was worth from $160,000 to $170,000. After his death, this tribute to the honesty and integrity of Judge Thurman arises to beautify his memory. The will, drawn Oct. 29, 1879, remains unchanged, with the exception of a codicil transferring his law library from a relative, since deceased, to a grandson, Albert Lee Thurman. To his daughters, Mrs. Cowles and Mrs. McCormick, he gives 50 books each, to be selected by them from his library. To his son, Allen, he gives his surveying instruments of early days. To a sister, Mrs. Reimensnyder, he gives $500 in addition to former bequests.

To his son-in-law, Richard C. McCormick, his gold snuff box. To his son-in-law, William S Cowles, his blackthorn cane and 20 volumes from the library, to be selected by him. Allen W., grandson, gets the gold watch and Albert Lee, grandson, the gold headed cane. The household goods go to the son, Allen W. The real estate in Columbus is equally divided between his three children; all other real estate equally between his two daughters. The gold snuff box is the one sent by Tiffany to the Paris exposition in 1878. It was given to Judge Thurman by his son-in-law, ex-Governor McCormick, and is handsome and costly.

A RUINOUS POLICY.

The Present System of Working Convicts Not Advantageous to the State.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 20.—The annual report of the managers of the penitentiary shows that the average population was 2,085; received, 1,297; discharged, 1,332; paroled, 104; pardoned, 23. One prisoner declined to accept a parole, and one pardoned returned voluntarily. The per capita cost of maintenance was $136.60. The earnings for the year were $228,736.13; expenditures, $284,197.35, showing a net loss of $55,461.22. This was largely due to the inability, because of adverse laws, to find employment for the convicts, regarding which the managers make the following statement:

"It has been estimated by good authority that the actual ratio of prison to free labor in Ohio is as one-fourth of 1 per cent to 100 per cent—a portion which makes it impossible that the products should fix prices either in the product market or the labor market. To the state, as represented in the institution, the policy is ruinous. To the taxpayer it creates additional burdens with no apparent benefit.

"So far as the condition of his confinement permits, each convict should be kept in touch with the industrial progress of the outside world, so that when he returns to it he may not be handicapped and prompted again to resort to crime because all means of honest livelihood are closed to him. The limit of the Llewellyn law should be raised to at least 25 per cent, if not repealed."

WILLING TO FIGHT.

Cleveland Irishmen Offer Their Services In Case of War.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 20.—About 40 of the leading Irish-Americans of this city, representing all of the various Irish societies, have held a meeting to discuss the Venezuelan affair. After a discussion of the object of the meeting and a talk on the probabilities of a war with England, a ringing resolution was adopted authorizing Major Gleason, the chairman, to offer Governor McKinley the services of a regiment of 1,000 volunteers, composed of residents of Cleveland and made up of Irishmen and sons of Irishmen, in order, as the resolution expresses it, "to uphold the glory of the United States, to humiliate England and ultimately bring about the freedom of Ireland."

It was also decided that, in sending the resolution to the governor, Major Gleason should make it clear that the thousand is only a beginning, and when more are wanted more will be forthcoming from this city.

Another Claim Against Hawaii.

HONOLULU, Dec. 20.—Minister Willis has filed another claim with this government for damages arising from an arrest made during the January rebellion. The claimant is George Ritman, an American. He wants $50,000. Ritman owned the foundry where shells were made for rebels.

A Boy Murderer Must Hang.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 20.—The jury in the trial of Lloyd Montgomery, the 18-year-old boy, for the murder of his father and mother and Daniel McKeercher, near Brownsville, has returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

THE PHILADELPHIA STRIKE.

The Employes Anxious to Arbitrate. More Cars Running.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20.—The traction strike situation is practically unchanged. Cars are being run on some lines under heavy police guard, but at dusk they will all be withdrawn and put in their stables. There have been fewer outbreaks and none of any consequence. This was the result of the rigid police regulations and the fact that the streets where the greater crowds congregated were picketed with mounted squadrons of armed officers.

The electrical workers of the company have passed a resolution of sympathy for the strikers, appropriating $25 for their aid, and said they were willing to go on strike whenever the request was made by President Mahon of the Amalgamated association. Rumors of arbitration are plentiful. The strikers are willing to submit their grievances to an arbitration committee, but the company refuses to have anything to do with any body associated with the Amalgamated association. They will arbitrate with their employes as employes, but not as members of the union. Neither will they confer with any representatives of the Amalgamated association.

Leader Mahon has instructed the men to be ready to return to work at a moment's notice. A committee of two strikers who do not belong to the Amalgamated association, and who have been employes of the company for many years, resumed work this morning and some time during the day will find President Welsh and ask for arbitration. Then they will present a letter written by prominent citizens urging him to consent to the proposition.

General Manager Beetem states that arbitration will not be considered under any circumstances. The order posted in the depots, he declared, was the company's ultimatum, and that was that employes must return to work today.

Assistant Postmaster General Neilson has arrived here and consulted the authorities regarding the trolley mail service. Reports were so unsatisfactory that a letter was sent to President Welsh, requesting whether or not trips will be made on schedule today. Extra deputy marshals will be sworn in and prompt measures taken to see that the service is not interfered with.

DECISIVE BATTLE EXPECTED.

Opposing Forces Near Together In Cuba. Millions In Property Destroyed.

HAVANA, Dec. 20.—The advance guard of the forces commanded by Maximo Gomez and Antonio Maceo has arrived in the province of Matanzas from the province of Santa Clara without, apparently, encountering any further opposition. General Campos is understood to have concentrated his forces on the other side of the frontier. Everything seems to point to a pitched battle being fought in the near future.

The insurgents have burned millions of dollars worth of sugar fields in the districts of Las Cruces, Santo Domingo, Esperanza and Sagua La Grande, in the province of Santa Clara, on their way to the frontier of the province of Matanzas.

Erastus Wiman a Free Man.

ALBANY, Dec. 20.—The court of appeals has decided to sustain the judgment of the general term, reversing the conviction of Erastus Wiman for forgery. Wiman is a free man.

Baron Nils Posse Dead.

BOSTON, Dec. 20.—Baron Niles Posse, who introduced the Ling system of gymnastics into this country some ten years ago, is dead.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Three children in the family of Walter Young, of East End, are ill with the grip.

An unusually large amount of ware was shipped to Pittsburg by express this morning.

Another Celestial was added to the Chinese population today. He came in on the morning train.

The "Special Delivery" company was not delivered at the opera house last evening because of some happening at Wheeling.

Many tramps are riding on the freight trains these days, and the railroad detectives have their hands full caring for them.

Engineer Joshua Curfman, of the fire department, is now in Detroit, and has written his friends at the station that he is enjoying his trip very much.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDole are entertaining a number of friends at their home on May street today in honor of the fortieth anniversary of their marriage.

Colonel and Mrs. Hill are home from the south, where they spent several weeks. They spent some time at the Atlanta exposition and visited the Missionary Ridge battle field.

Little if anything is being done at the shipping platform of the freight depot. About all the business has been done that will be done before the holidays, and the force expect an easy time for a few weeks.

A brawl in which several men took part is said to have occurred on the railroad near East End yesterday evening. Neither the names of the participants nor the particulars of the affair could be obtained.

When the fire was raging on the West Virginia hills last night, and many persons were watching the blaze, a little boy asked his mother on Fourth street: "Mamma, is that what the man preached about in the Diamond?"

A lady residing on the hill was going home last night when the lights went out, and happening to be on a street without a board walk, had a hard time of it. She was covered with mud, though not seriously hurt, when she reached home.

Potteries are closing for the holiday season almost every day, and more people are seen on the streets than in many months. The Burford company will shut down tomorrow, but expect to have all the departments going in a few weeks with a full force.

A local paper consumed a few sticks of double leaded matter and the word "extra" last evening to give facts concerning the board of health, while the NEWS REVIEW reported the meeting as the business was transacted, and lost no time in getting on the street.

The railroad company are extending their order for vaccination, and physicians today commenced to vaccinate the employes of the Wellsville shops. The families of all who desire will be served in the same manner, free of charge. A supply of vaccine has been secured for that purpose.

It is said that a well known young man, who works every day at the China works, will be married the day after Christmas, and when he again takes up his work it will be as a foreman, the new position to be for him a valuable wedding present from Superintendent Poole.

East End is suffering from mud. There are a number of new sidewalks in town, but they do not form a continuous stretch. Some property owners neglected to pave, and there are gaps in which pedestrians find mud more than sufficient to make up for the convenience of the pavements.

After the regular meeting of the Heptasophs last evening the members of the conclave were banqueted in the dining room connected with the quarters of the Grand Army, and the hours were spent delightfully. The conclave is one of the solid societies of the city, and although not very old, continues to prosper.

The street lights were out a short time last night because the force at the electric plant could not keep up steam, owing to the presence of a poor quality of coal that had in some manner become mixed with the regular supply. The company are having some old poles on Fourth street replaced by new ones today.

The coming year, 1896, will be a leap year and the extra day should be appreciated, for there will be no more leap years until 1904. The centesimal year, 1900, will not be a leap year, because such a year cannot be unless it is evenly divisible by four, with the two zeros suppressed. Thus, 1600 was a leap year; 1700, 1800 and 1900, coming under the common year class, but 2000 will be a leap year.

J. Williamson and family expect to leave the city about the first of the year and will go to Columbus, where they have decided to locate temporarily. Mr. Williamson will retire from active business life, but his son, Harold, will soon be engaged in some work, perhaps as a commercial traveler. The family have resided in the city for a long time, and have made many friends, who extend their best wishes for happiness in the new home.

Caution about the Use and Selections of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eyes with ease and comfort; also will be able to read it with each eye separately. If unable to do so your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or sewing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The lenses sold in the cheap goods are of unequal density and have imperfectly formed surfaces. Continued use of these poorer lenses will result in positive injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accomodation to supply the defects in the glass."

THE WILL OF THURMAN

His Estate Worrh From $160,000 to $170,000.

ALL LEFT TO HIS RELATIVES.

He Does Not Forget the Daughter From Whom He Was Estranged or Her Divorced Husband, Lieutenant Commander Cowles—A List of the Bequests.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 20.—The probated will of the late Senator Thurman shows he was worth from $160,000 to $170,000. After his death, this tribute to the honesty and integrity of Judge Thurman arises to beautify his memory. The will, drawn Oct. 29, 1879, remains unchanged, with the exception of a codicil transferring his law library from a relative, since deceased, to a grandson, Albert Lee Thurman. To his daughters, Mrs. Cowles and Mrs. McCormick, he gives 50 books each, to be selected by them from his library. To his son, Allen, he gives his surveying instruments of early days. To a sister, Mrs. Reimensnyder, he gives $500 in addition to former bequests.

To his son-in-law, Richard C. McCormick, his gold snuff box. To his son-in-law, William S Cowles, his blackthorn cane and 20 volumes from the library, to be selected by him. Allen W., grandson, gets the gold watch and Albert Lee, grandson, the gold headed cane. The household goods go to the son, Allen W. The real estate in Columbus is equally divided between his three children; all other real estate equally between his two daughters. The gold snuff box is the one sent by Tiffany to the Paris exposition in 1873. It was given to Judge Thurman by his son-in-law, ex-Governor McCormick, and is handsome and costly.

A RUINOUS POLICY.

The Present System of Working Convicts Not Advantageous to the State.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 20.—The annual report of the managers of the penitentiary shows that the average population was 2,085; received, 1,297; discharged, 1,332; paroled, 104; pardoned, 23. One prisoner declined to accept a parole, and one pardoned returned voluntarily. The per capita cost of maintenance was $136.60. The earnings for the year were $228,736.13; expenditures, $284,197.35, showing a net loss of $55,461.22. This was largely due to the inability, because of adverse laws, to find employment for the convicts, regarding which the managers make the following statement:

"It has been estimated by good authority that the actual ratio of prison to free labor in Ohio is as one-fourth of 1 per cent to 100 per cent—a portion which makes it impossible that the products should fix prices either in the product market or the labor market. To the state, as represented in the institution, the policy is ruinous. To the taxpayer it creates additional burdens with no apparent benefit.

"So far as the condition of his confinement permits, each convict should be kept in touch with the industrial progress of the outside world, so that when he returns to it he may not be handicapped and prompted again to resort to crime because all meansof honest livelihood are closed to him. The limit of the Llewellyn law should be raised to at least 25 per cent, if not repealed."

WILLING TO FIGHT.

Cleveland Irishmen Offer Their Services In Case of War.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 20.—About 40 of the leading Irish-Americans of this city, representing all of the various Irish societies, have held a meeting to discuss the Venezuelan affair. After a discussion of the object of the meeting and a talk on the probabilities of a war with England, a ringing resolution was adopted authorizing Major Gleason, the chairman, to offer Governor McKinley the services of a regiment of 1,000 volunteers, composed of residents of Cleveland and made up of Irishmen and sons of Irishmen, in order, as the resolution expresses it, "to uphold the glory of the United States, to humiliate England and ultimately bring about the freedom of Ireland."

It was also decided that, in sending the resolution to the governor, Major Gleason should make it clear that the thousand is only a beginning, and when more are wanted more will be forthcoming from this city.

Another Claim Against Hawaii.

HONOLULU, Dec. 20.—Minister Willis has filed another claim with this government for damages arising from an arrest made during the January rebellion. The claimant is George Ritman, an American. He wants $50,000. Ritman owned the foundry where shells were made for rebels.

A Boy Murderer Must Hang.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 20.—The jury in the trial of Lloyd Montgomery, the 18-year-old boy, for the murder of his father and mother and Daniel McKeercher, near Brownsville, has returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

THE PHILADELPHIA STRIKE.

The Employes Anxious to Arbitrate. More Cars Running.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20.—The traction strike situation is practically unchanged. Cars are being run on some lines under heavy police guard, but at dusk they will all be withdrawn and put in their stables. There have been fewer outbreaks and none of any consequence. This was the result of the rigid police regulations and the fact that the streets where the greater crowds congregated were picketed with mounted squadrons of armed officers.

The electrical workers of the company have passed a resolution of sympathy for the strikers, appropriating $25 for their aid, and said they were willing to go on strike whenever the request was made by President Mahon of the Amalgamated association. Rumors of arbitration are plentiful. The strikers are willing to submit their grievances to an arbitration committee, but the company refuses to have anything to do with any body associated with the Amalgamated association. They will arbitrate with their employes as employes, but not as members of the union. Neither will they confer with any representatives of the Amalgamated association.

Leader Mahon has instructed the men to be ready to return to work at a moment's notice. A committee of two strikers who do not belong to the Amalgamated association, and who have been employes of the company for many years, resumed work this morning and some time during the day will find President Welsh and ask for arbitration. Then they will present a letter written by prominent citizens urging him to consent to the proposition.

General Manager Beetem states that arbitration will not be considered under any circumstances. The order posted in the depots, he declared, was the company's ultimatum, and that was that employes must return to work today.

Assistant Postmaster General Neilson has arrived here and consulted the authorities regarding the trolley mail service. Reports were so unsatisfactory that a letter was sent to President Welsh, requesting whether or not trips will be made on schedule today. Extra deputy marshals will be sworn in and prompt measures taken to see that the service is not interfered with.

DECISIVE BATTLE EXPECTED.

Opposing Forces Near Together In Cuba. Millions In Property Destroyed.

HAVANA, Dec. 20.—The advance guard of the forces commanded by Maximo Gomez and Antonio Maceo has arrived in the province of Matanzas from the province of Santa Clara without, apparently, encountering any further opposition. General Campos is understood to have concentrated his forces on the other side of the frontier. Everything seems to point to a pitched battle being fought in the near future.

The insurgents have burned millions of dollars worth of sugar fields in the districts of Las Cruces, Santo Domingo, Esperanza and Sagua La Grande, in the province of Santa Clara, on their way to the frontier of the province of Matanzas.

Erastus Wiman a Free Man.

ALBANY, Dec. 20.—The court of appeals has decided to sustain the judgment of the general term, reversing the conviction of Erastus Wiman for forgery. Wiman is a free man.

Baron Nils Posse Dead.

BOSTON, Dec. 20.—Baron Niles Posse, who introduced the Ling system of gymnastics into this country some ten years ago, is dead.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Three children in the family of Walter Young, of East End, are ill with the grip.

An unusually large amount of ware was shipped to Pittsburg by express this morning.

Another Celestial was added to the Chinese population today. He came in on the morning train.

The "Special Delivery" company was not delivered at the opera house last evening because of some happening at Wheeling.

Many tramps are riding on the freight trains these days, and the railroad detectives have their hands full caring for them.

Engineer Joshua Curfman, of the fire department, is now in Detroit, and has written his friends at the station that he is enjoying his trip very much.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDole are entertaining a number of friends at their home on May street today in honor of the fortieth anniversary of their marriage.

Colonel and Mrs. Hill are home from the south, where they spent several weeks. They spent some time at the Atlanta exposition and visited the Missionary Ridge battle field.

Little if anything is being done at the shipping platform of the freight depot. About all the business has been done that will be done before the holidays, and the force expect an easy time for a few weeks.

A brawl in which several men took part is said to have occurred on the railroad near East End yesterday evening. Neither the names of the participants nor the particulars of the affair could be obtained.

When the fire was raging on the West Virginia hills last night, and many persons were watching the blaze, a little boy asked his mother on Fourth street: "Mamma, is that what the man preached about in the Diamond?"

A lady residing on the hill was going home last night when the lights went out, and happening to be on a street without a board walk, had a hard time of it. She was covered with mud, though not seriously hurt, when she reached home.

Potteries are closing for the holiday season almost every day, and more people are seen on the streets than in many months. The Burford company will shut down tomorrow, but expect to have all the departments going in a few weeks with a full force.

A local paper consumed a few sticks of double leaded matter and the word "extra" last evening to give facts concerning the board of health, while the NEWS REVIEW reported the meeting as the business was transacted, and lost no time in getting on the street.

The railroad company are extending their order for vaccination, and physicians today commenced to vaccinate the employes of the Wellsville shops. The families of all who desire will be served in the same manner, free of charge. A supply of vaccine has been secured for that purpose.

It is said that a well known young man, who works every day at the China works, will be married the day after Christmas, and when he again takes up his work it will be as a foreman, the new position to be for him a valuable wedding present from Superintendent Poole.

East End is suffering from mud. There are a number of new sidewalks in town, but they do not form a continuous stretch. Some property owners neglected to pave, and there are gaps in which pedestrians find mud more than sufficient to make up for the convenience of the pavements.

After the regular meeting of the Heptasophs last evening the members of the conclave were banqueted in the dining room connected with the quarters of the Grand Army, and the hours were spent delightfully. The conclave is one of the solid societies of the city, and although not very old, continues to prosper.

The street lights were out a short time last night because the force at the electric plant could not keep up steam, owing to the presence of a poor quality of coal that had in some manner become mixed with the regular supply. The company are having some old poles on Fourth street replaced by new ones today.

The coming year, 1896, will be a leap year and the extra day should be appreciated, for there will be no more leap years until 1904. The centesimal year, 1900, will not be a leap year, because such a year cannot be unless it is evenly divisible by four, with the two zeros suppressed. Thus, 1600 was a leap year; 1700, 1800 and 1900, coming under the common year class, but 2000 will be a leap year.

J. Williamson and family expect to leave the city about the first of the year and will go to Columbus, where they have decided to locate temporarily. Mr. Williamson will retire from active business life, but his son, Harold, will soon be engaged in some work, perhaps as a commercial traveler. The family have resided in the city for a long time, and have made many friends, who extend their best wishes for happiness in the new home.

High School Entertainment

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eyes with ease and comfort; also will be able to read it with each eye separately. If unable to do so your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or sewing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The lenses sold in the cheap goods are of an equal density and have imperfectly formed surfaces. Continued use of them proper lenses will result in positive injury from the constant strain upon the opposite of accommodation to supply the defects in the glass."

ON HIS EAR.

The artist has endeavored to depict an angry and dissatisfied customer. He came to our store afterward. He has just left a rival establishment. We would like to show his picture when leaving us, but the smile on his countenance would be too expensive to illustrate in a single column. Why not always smile? It's so easy. Simply buy your clothing of Geo. C. Murphy and the seamed and wrinkled forehead of discontent will exist only in imagination. Also see our holiday line of neckwear, silk mufflers, fur and plain top kid gloves, silk umbrellas, silk suspenders, etc., at lowest prices known. See our Smoking Jackets.

IN NEED OF A CAPTAIN

Company E is Without That Officer Now.

WALTER SUPPLEE HAS RESIGNED

He Told the Boys All About It Last Night. Lieutenant Finley In Charge—Captain Supplee Goes to Lisbon, Where He Will Be a Deputy Under Sheriff Gill.

Captain Walter Supplee, commander of Company E, resigned his position last night, and placed the command in the hands of Lieutenant Robert Finley.

The action of Captain Supplee has been anticipated since the rumors began to fly about the city that he would go to Lisbon as Sheriff Gill's deputy, but no one was certain that the rumor was correct until he told the boys at the armory last night. He stated that he had sent his resignation to Colonel Gyger some time ago, but it had not yet been accepted, and likely would not be until the new administration at Columbus began work next month. He had been instructed to place Lieutenant Finley in command as captain and treasurer of the company, and the command would now devolve on him. All the reports were made out to the end of the quarter, and the affairs of the command were in very good condition. The boys received the news with anything but joy, for they have always looked on Captain Supplee as one of their best friends. An election for a captain will be ordered by Colonel Gyger soon after the resignation is accepted, and already the boys are thinking of prospective candidates, several of whom are in plain sight.

Captain Supplee and his family moved to Lisbon today, where he will familiarize himself with the work of the office, and be ready for the duties which begin in a few weeks. Sheriff Gill will move to the county seat and be ready for work soon after the new year begins. Both gentlemen have very many friends in the city, and all wish them success and happiness in the new positions that have come their way.

MADE A BLAZE.

A Big Fire Raged for a Time on the Hills.

Many people last evening glanced toward the Virginia hills, opposite East End, and saw a bright blaze which seemed several hundred feet long. The fire began soon after 7 o'clock and continued for half an hour. It seemed as though a brush fence had caught, and was blazing furiously. No one seemed to know the origin or the extent of the damage, but the scene was beautiful and attracted a great deal of attention.

A Trip to the Circus.

It is a clean play, this "Trip to the Circus," and will be at the Grand on Saturday evening. The original production was staged at the enormous cost of $25,000 and carried 125 people. The story is interesting. The little daughter of a Yankee farmer is stolen, and the sorrowing parents, after years of diligent search, which cost them their all, find her in "A Trip to the Circus." The comedy is rich and free from vulgarity, and the dramatic scenes are powerful. The last act shows the interior of a great circus, with all the leading features, and makes a novel and interesting sight.

Anyone who has children will rejoice with L. B. Mulford, of Plainfield, N. J. His little boy, five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days and nights he tried various remedies recommended by friends and neighbors. He says, "I thought sure I would lose him. I had seen Chamberlain's Cough remedy advertised and thought I would try it as a last hope and am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day and a cure was effected. I keep this remedy in the house now and as soon as any of my children show signs of croup I give it to them and that is the last of it." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Improvements Almost Completed.

The improvements at Brunt's Opera House are almost completed, and the place presents a handsome appearance. The floor has been leveled and the gallery remodeled, while the stage remains as before. A few rows of chairs have been placed about the hall in order that those who do not dance can find comfort while in the form of spectators. The interior of the place has been treated to a fresh coat of paint.

WAIVED A HEARING.

Metzinger Was Taken to Lisbon This Morning.

Metzinger, who stabbed Frazier, is now behind the bars in the county jail, and will likely remain there until the grand jury passes on his case and the court disposes of him. He waived a hearing in the court of Mayor Gilbert yesterday afternoon, and since he could not give the $2,000 bond required, he was taken to Lisbon this morning by Chief Gill. His friend Frazier is getting along nicely, and will soon be as well as ever.

They Laugh.

The physicians are laughing over the statement made in a local paper the other evening that they would personally investigate the next smallpox patient and satisfy themselves as to whether the disease is really what Doctor Ogden claims. They claim there is nothing in it, and a prominent physician today wanted the public to know they have decided on no such course.

Mr. Ira P. Wetmore, a prominent real estate agent of San Angelo, Texas, has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy in his family for several years as occasion required, and always with perfect success. He says: "I find it a perfect cure for our baby when troubled with colic or dysentery. I now feel that my outfit is not complete without a bottle of this remedy at home or on a trip away from home. A Comrade Dying.

Mrs. Harry Palmer has just received word that her cousin, Darius Green residing at Beaver, Pa., is not expected to live. Comrade Green did gallant service in the war of the rebellion, and was very badly wounded. He has quite a number of acquaintances among the comrades of East Liverpool, some of whom served in the same regiment with him. Mrs. Palmer will go to the bedside of her relative.

The First Lesson of an Arab Boy.

The very first lesson which an Arab baby learns when he begins to talk is to keep facts to himself. It does not sound very friendly put in that way, but it saves a deal of trouble. Foreigners do not understand Arabs. They ask them pointed questions and receive peculiar answers. They construe the answers to please themselves, and come away to tell the world that the Arabs are a nation of liars. They are not a nation of liars. Perhaps if they should tell the foreigners to mind their own affairs and let them and theirs alone the foreigners would understand them better.—"Yamoud," by Henry Willard French, in St. Nicholas.

Blenheim.

Blenheim is one of the biggest and most beautiful places of the kind in England, and the expenses of keeping it up are enormous. The late Duke of Marlborough used to say that it cost £800 a year in putty, and this may be true, since there is a great deal of glass about the place.—London Tit-Bits.

The Annual Lesson.

Farmers coming in from the country are receiving their annual lesson on the road question, and are taking it with the usual grace. The roads are very muddy, but have not yet reached that point where they actually become an evil. That will appear about February.

Mush and Milk.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will give a mush and milk social at the Young Women's Home, on Market street, on next Saturday evening, December 21. Mush and milk will be served from 7 to 9:30 p. m. The public has a cordial invitation to participate. Mush and milk, the most delicious article, only 10 cents per bowl.

Some Gambling.

It is said that a pair of smooth gamblers who frequently drop into the city for a few days were in town this week, and got away with a few dollars that belonged to the boys who like to sport.

Take your lady friends to the Opera House Friday night, December 20. Entertainment under the auspices of the Junior class of the High School.

A Remarkable Woman.

The dowager Lady Stanley of Alderley, whose death took place not long since, was a remarkable woman. Her great age of 87 was no hindrance to her extraordinary intellectual and physical activity. She was born before the jubilee of George III, was presented at court to George IV, was familiar with the widow of the young pretender, and was present both at the coronation and at the jubilee of her majesty Queen Victoria. More than half a century ago Lady Stanley was one of the original promoters of the Queen's college and one of the members of its first council. She assisted Miss Emily Davies, to whom the foundation of Girton college was mainly owing.

During her whole life she has been working for the education of women, never endeavoring to monopolize the credit, and all this good work was accomplished while taking a due interest in her children, even to the second and third generation. Lady Stanley had 12 children, 7 of whom are now living. Recently she regretted she was not ten years younger, to explore some of the newly investigated regions of central Asia, and it is related that on one of her last visits to the premier, Mr. Gladstone, when he endeavored to turn the conversation from politics by alluding to a recent novel, she said: "Do not let us talk of novels. Leave them for your old age as I do." A singular remark for a lady of 87 addressing a statesman of 85.—Woman's Journal.

The Typewriter In India.

A quaint tale of a typewriter is told by an Anglo-Indian who has just come home. One of the English judges in India was an expert on the machine, and it occurred to him to use it for the taking of judicial notes. The machine was conveyed into court, when a certain novelty was imparted to the proceedings by the click of the keys and the tinkle of the bell which indicated that a line had been completed. The prisoner was found guilty and sentenced. Promptly he appealed, on the ground that instead of listening to the evidence the judge had whiled away his time by playing on a musical instrument.—Realm.

Suicided With Her Child.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 20.—Mrs. Charles Grossman, wife of a prominent hardware merchant, has committed suicide by jumping into a cistern back of their house. She carried with her a 3-year-old child. A note was left telling where the bodies could be found. No cause can be conceived for the act.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

The Knights of Pythias of Carey have celebrated their sixth anniversary.

John Mantle, a boy, while playing on a train at South Portsmouth, fell between the cars. His right leg was amputated, and he received serious and probably fatal internal injuries.

Samuel Dutiel, a prominent farmer of South Webster, fell under a wagon load of fireclay weighing four tons. His right leg was crushed, necessitating amputation, and it is feared he sustained fatal internal injuries.

Governor McKinley has been invited to attend the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of "Aunt" Katy King Snodgrass of Milford Center, on Jan. 6. The meeting of the legislature will probably prevent his attendance.

A. G. Starbuck of Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton yardman, while switching on a trestle near Niles toolwork, at Hamilton, stepped through the trestle and fell, breaking his left leg in two places between the knee and ankle.

Mrs. John Miller of Bucyrus has brought suit against several steamboat companies at Toledo for $25,000 damages for injuries sustained during the summer upon the occasion when the steamer City of Toledo was wrecked. Mrs. Miller was permanently injured.

Cyrus J. Evans, a contractor of Portsmouth, disappeared several days ago, and has been found wandering around in the woods near Scioto, insane. Five months ago his wife died suddenly, after having been married only two months, and the shock is supposed to have caused his trouble.

Attorney General Richards has given an opinion to the effect that prosecuting attorneys cannot collect a percentage of fines assessed under the pure food law prosecutions. Also that county commissioners do not comply with the law relating to their annual reports when they simply report balances in the various funds with total expenditures. They must make detailed reports of their transactions.

Perhaps if they should tell the foreigners to mind their own affairs and let them and theirs alone the foreigners would understand them better.—"Yamoud," by Henry Willard French, in St. Nicholas.

Blenheim.

Blenheim is one of the biggest and most beautiful places of the kind in England, and the expenses of keeping it up are enormous. The late Duke of Marlborough used to say that it cost £800 a year in putty, and this may be true, since there is a great deal of glass about the place.—London Tit-Bits.

They are beauties. The photos at MacKenzie's, First National bank building. Everybody is delighted with these superb pictures. Only $1.50 per dozen. Take the elevator.

The Annual Lesson.

Farmers coming in from the country are receiving their annual lesson on the road question, and are taking it with the usual grace. The roads are very muddy, but have not yet reached that point where they actually become an evil. That will appear about February.

A Remarkable Woman.

The dowager Lady Stanley of Alderley, whose death took place not long since, was a remarkable woman. Her great age of 87 was no hindrance to her extraordinary intellectual and physical activity. She was born before the jubilee of George III, was presented at court to George IV, was familiar with the widow of the young pretender, and was present both at the coronation and at the jubilee of her majesty Queen Victoria. More than half a century ago Lady Stanley was one of the original promoters of the Queen's college and one of the members of its first council. She assisted Miss Emily Davies, to whom the foundation of Girton college was mainly owing.

During her whole life she has been working for the education of women, never endeavoring to monopolize the credit, and all this good work was accomplished while taking a due interest in her children, even to the second and third generation. Lady Stanley had 12 children, 7 of whom are now living. Recently she regretted she was not ten years younger, to explore some of the newly investigated regions of central Asia, and it is related that on one of her last visits to the premier, Mr. Gladstone, when he endeavored to turn the conversation from politics by alluding to a recent novel, she said: "Do not let us talk of novels. Leave them for your old age as I do." A singular remark for a lady of 87 addressing a statesman of 85.—Woman's Journal.

The Typewriter In India.

A quaint tale of a typewriter is told by an Anglo-Indian who has just come home. One of the English judges in India was an expert on the machine, and it occurred to him to use it for the taking of judicial notes. The machine was conveyed into court, when a certain novelty was imparted to the proceedings by the click of the keys and the tinkle of the bell which indicated that a line had been completed. The prisoner was found guilty and sentenced. Promptly he appealed, on the ground that instead of listening to the evidence the judge had whiled away his time by playing on a musical instrument.—Realm.

Suicided With Her Child.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 20.—Mrs. Charles Grossman, wife of a prominent hardware merchant, has committed suicide by jumping into a cistern back of their house. She carried with her a 3-year-old child. A note was left telling where the bodies could be found. No cause can be conceived for the act.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

The Knights of Pythias of Carey have celebrated their sixth anniversary.

John Mantle, a boy, while playing on a train at South Portsmouth, fell between the cars. His right leg was amputated, and he received serious and probably fatal internal injuries.

Samuel Dutiel, a prominent farmer of South Webster, fell under a wagon load of fireclay weighing four tons. His right leg was crushed, necessitating amputation, and it is feared he sustained fatal internal injuries.

Governor McKinley has been invited to attend the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of "Aunt" Katy King Snodgrass of Milford Center, on Jan. 6. The meeting of the legislature will probably prevent his attendance.

A. G. Starbuck of Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton yardman, while switching on a trestle near Niles toolwork, at Hamilton, stepped through the trestle and fell, breaking his left leg in two places between the knee and ankle.

Mrs. John Miller of Bucyrus has brought suit against several steamboat companies at Toledo for $25,000 damages for injuries sustained during the summer upon the occasion when the steamer City of Toledo was wrecked. Mrs. Miller was permanently injured.

Cyrus J. Evans, a contractor of Portsmouth, disappeared several days ago, and has been found wandering around in the woods near Scioto, insane. Five months ago his wife died suddenly, after having been married only two months, and the shock is supposed to have caused his trouble.

Attorney General Richards has given an opinion to the effect that prosecuting attorneys cannot collect a percentage of fines assessed under the pure food law prosecutions. Also that county commissioners do not comply with the law relating to their annual reports when they simply report balances in the various funds with total expenditures. They must make detailed reports of their transactions.
